100-MILE VOYAGE IN AIR IN 190 MINUTES.

American Experts Make First Trial Trip Before Great Race at St. Louis—Rain Did Not Spoil It.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 17.—After traveling through air almost 100 miles in three hours and ten minutes, J. C. McCoy and Capt. G. Del. Chandler brought the balloon Psyche down safely in a cornfield three miles north of Jackson, Mo., yesterday, ending the first trial trip taken by the aeronauts, who are to contest in the international races to be held here Oct. 21.

The route of the balloon was almost directly north of St. Louis, and Mr. McCoy, who is to pilot the America in the coming races, expressed himself as well pleased with the performance of the Psyche and with the prospects of a long trip in the America, which is more than twice the size of the balloon used in the first test.

Allen R. Hawley, who is to pilot the St. Louis, and Augustus Post, who will be his companion in the great race, planned to take an all night balloon trip last night but because of the delay in receiving their experimental balloon, the trip was postponed. Mr. McCoy and Capt. Chandler plan two other trips this week in preparation for the races.

The making of experimental trips before the races seems to be confined to the American contestants, as the foreigners who have arrived say they will take no practice flights.

Jerome of New York, was sentenced yesterday to pay a fine of $250. ## FATAL FALL DOWN STAIRS

Amos V. May of Brattleboro Died Yesterday

UNCONSCIOUS ALL TIME

He Was a Native of Wardsboro, and Had Been in the Mercantile Business in Several Places in Vermont and Massachusetts.

Brattleboro, Oct. 17.—Amos V. May, aged 70 years, a prominent real estate agent, fell down a stairway in the barn on the Richard Bradley estate Tuesday night, and sustained a fracture of the skull at the base of the brain, which caused his death yesterday.

Mr. May was found unconscious at the foot of the stairs by George Horner, an employee on the estate. He did not recover consciousness. He went to the barn to see his horse, which he placed there for the winter only a week ago.

He is survived by a wife and two daughters. His wife was at the hospital recovering from a surgical operation when the accident happened. She was taken to her home yesterday, arriving after her husband's death.

Mr. May was a native of Wardsboro, and was formerly in the mercantile business in Wardsboro, Fitchburg, Mass., and Newfane. He was a member of the board of stewards of the local Methodist church.

ARGUMENT IN THE PERKINS CASE.

Counsel Declares Indictment Was Forced by District Attorney Jerome.

New York, Oct. 17.—Motions to dismiss the six indictments against George W. Perkins, former vice-president of the New York Life insurance company, accusing him of forgery in the third degree, which was found as a result of the investigation of insurance matters by the legislative insurance committee, were argued yesterday before Justice Dowling.

The motions to dismiss the indictments against former Secretary of the Treasury Charles S. Fairchild, a former director of the New York Life, who was indicted jointly with Mr. Perkins on charges of forgery in the third degree, had also been set down for argument yesterday.

Dist. Atty. Jerome asked that the motion in the Fairchild case be permitted to stand over subject to call on two days' notice to counsel, inasmuch as the points involved in the case are similar. The request was granted.

It was agreed that if the decision of the court should be favorable to the people's case, Mr. Fairchild's counsel should be permitted to present such arguments as were not brought out in the Perkins case. If the Perkins indictments were dismissed, no further arguments would be necessary in the Fairchild case.

Lewis A. DeLafield argued for the dismissal of the indictments against Mr. Perkins on the grounds that the evidence on which they are based did not show that a crime had been committed, that there was no evidence before the grand jury that the defendant committed the crime charged; that incompetent evidence was received; that the indictments were found contrary to law, and that later indictments for the same offense were found and presented by the grand jury.

HARRIMAN ON MONEY.

Lots of It, He Says, But Antagonism Keeps It Tight.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 17.—"There is plenty of money in the country; the trouble is, the people will not let it circulate," said Edward H. Harriman yesterday. "The business situation is good," continued Mr. Harriman. "There is no depression, but there is a false sentiment caused by antagonism, which has curtailed the circulation of money."

"A depression in business is caused by lack of money. There is no lack of money in the country—there are piles of it, but the people will not let it circulate because of this false sentiment engendered by antagonism to those conducting big business enterprises. The country is prosperous, and with a restoration of confidence there would be more doing."

A BUNCO FOOT BALL GAME.

Boy Evidently Swindled Brattleboro People and Departed.

Brattleboro, Oct. 17.—A boy about 14 years old solicited subscriptions in all the Brattleboro stores and business places a few days ago, ostensibly for the purpose of starting a foot ball team. Nothing has been heard from him since, and the boys in the village who are in touch with foot ball matters, say they know of no one authorized to make any canvass. It is believed that the subscribers were buncoed and that the boy was working for a band of gypsies who were camped near the village. Many people signed the paper, the amounts ranging from 25 cents to $2, but no one has been found who knew the boy.

NOW IS THE BEST TIME TO TAKE IT

Directions to Prepare Simple, Yet Remarkable, Home Mixture.

A well-known authority on rheumatism gives the following valuable, yet simple and harmless, prescription which anyone can easily prepare at home:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and, being of vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.

This pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., some of which give relief, few really give permanent results, and the above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.

MOVING CLIFF MAY FALL 1,000 FEET INTO TOWN.

Village in Spain Is Washed Away by a Cloudburst; Part of Southern Europe Is Swept by a Terrible Storm.

Paris, Oct. 17.—The whole of southern Europe is in the grasp of a tremendous storm, accompanied by torrential rain. The storm area extends from Morocco northward, over Portugal, Spain and southern France.

The village of Oist, near Barcelona, was literally washed away by a cloudburst.

In the department of Savoie, a great over-hanging cliff of 800,000 cubic metres is reported to be moving and in imminent danger of toppling over and crushing the village of Tormery, 1,000 feet below.

A dispatch from Brest says that a tempest is raging off the coast and that several fishing smacks have been captured and their crews drowned.

The storm compelled a Portuguese squadron to seek refuge in the harbor of Lisbon, and while making port the torpedo boat Lago collided with a gunboat, resulting in fatal injuries to the commander of the Lago.

The recently flooded rivers in the south of France are again rising and many houses, weakened by the previous inundations are falling.

Warships off the African coast and the Spanish peninsula have been obliged to seek shelter. The French torpedo gunboat Casini lost her propeller while making port during the gale.

FOUL PLAY FEARED.

Friends Say Rich English Woman Slain For Money.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 17.—Miss Francis Gardner, the rich English woman whose body was found in Newport Bay, Sunday, was murdered, her friends are sure. The fact that she carried a well-known pocketbook and that no trace of it had been found furnishes a sufficient motive for the crime. There seems little doubt that Miss Gardner took the boat for New York. The woman's home was in Manchester.

Excessive Drinking

Urine Destroys The Craving For Drink Sold Under Positive Guarantee.

Excessive or continued use of alcoholic beverages always results in a diseased condition of the nervous system. The drinking man is often heard to say, "I can stop of my own free will and when I wish," but the poor fellow is now devoid of the power to act at the proper time and in the right way—it's too late, the craving has secured a firm hold and because of the diseased nervous system he has not the ability for sustained effort. The result we all know.

Drunkness is no longer considered a crime; eminent scientists and physicians have agreed that it is a disease and must be treated as such.

The home treatment that has been used for a number of years, and is highly successful, is Urine. It is sold under a positive guarantee that if it does not effect a cure your money will be refunded.

Urine is in two forms. When desiring to give secretly, purchase Urine No. 1, and if the patient will voluntarily take the treatment, Urine No. 2 should be given. The guarantee is the same in either case. Urine costs but $1.50 per box. Mailed in plain sealed wrapper on receipt of price. Write for free treatise on "Drunkness" mailed in sealed envelope by The Urine Co., Washington, D. C. Sold by leading druggists everywhere and in this city by Rickett & Wells.

ENGLAND STOPS PRESS ATTACK ON JAPANESE

Bethel, Whose Paper Led the Korea Campaign Against Annexation, in Court on Eve of Crown Prince's Visit.

Seoul, Korea, Oct. 17.—E. T. Bethel, a British subject, editor of the Korea Daily News, and also of the Daihan Shimpoo, the latter printed in the Korean language, appeared yesterday before the British consular court here on a summons charging him with using his papers to incite the Koreans to riot.

Articles were read before the court bitterly criticizing the preparations for the reception of the Japanese crown prince and the consul bound Mr. Bethel over in heavy security for his future good conduct and said a reputation would result in his probable deportation.

Mr. Bethel has been the leader of the anti-Japanese movement here, and has maintained a steady campaign against Prince Ito's undertaking. The British privy council recently issued an order covering the conduct of newspapers by British subjects in foreign countries. It is believed here the order was the result of a request made by Japan to reach Mr. Bethel, whose attitude caused Japan to make formal representations to the British ambassador, Sir Claude M. MacDonald.

The crown prince of Japan, Yoshihito, who arrived yesterday at Chempulpo, was welcomed by the emperor and crown prince of Korea, Prince Ito, the Japanese resident-general here, the entire Korean cabinet and all the high military and civil officials. The city of Seoul has been elaborately decorated in honor of the visit of Prince Yoshihito.

ROCKEFELLER NOW READY TO TELL OF LOANS.

Standard Oil Treasurer Is Told by Counsel to Come to Hearing; Session Will Adjourn on Friday.

New York, Oct. 17.—A call has been sent out for William G. Rockefeller to appear as a witness at the Standard Oil hearing.

Morris Rosenthal, one of the Standard Oil's attorneys, has telegraphed Rockefeller that he is wanted as a witness and it is expected that he will arrive today.

The present hearing will have to adjourn for a month, and Mr. Kellogg wanted Mr. Rockefeller on the stand before the adjournment. Mr. Kellogg is anxious to ask the treasurer of the Standard Oil company the meaning of the loans of more than $32,000,000 to "outside interests," which no other witness has been able to explain.

Howard Bayne, assistant secretary of the Security Oil company of Texas, was called as the first witness yesterday. S. G. Bayne, his father, president of the Standard National bank, which is generally believed to be closely allied to the Standard interests.

All but three shares of the company, Mr. Bayne said, are owned by the Commercial Trading company of London, which bought it two years ago. He did not know whether H. R. Johnson, who engineered the purchase of the Manhattan Oil Company, was connected with the London concern.

"Who furnished the money to build your Texas plant?" asked Mr. Kellogg. "I don't know."

Mr. Bayne did not know much about the English company, except that he made reports to it. He said that he did not make reports to the Standard.

DEAD IN DINGY ROOM

Aged Inventor, David Proctor, Dies

IN POVERTY IN CHICAGO

Man Who Was a Cousin of the Senator, Leaves Daughter in Massachusetts—Worked on Flying Machines Last.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 17.—David Redfield Proctor, 81, a cousin of United States Senator Redfield Proctor of Vermont, was found dead from old age in a cheap lodging house at 148 South Clark street. He had been in straitened circumstances for several years, although he made a fortune from the sale of royalties on an invention which he patented in the early seventies—a device which arrested and extinguished the sparks from locomotives.

In the palmy days of the Columbian exposition he was one of the most picturesque characters who haunted the streets of Director General Davis and Architects Burnham and Graham with offers of marvelous designs for enhancing the beauty and magnitude of the great fair. He designed the Proctor-Morrison tower, which was intended to make the Eiffel tower seem a dwarf in comparison.

For the rights to this tower he was offered $100,000 and a company to build it was started under the presidency of Engineer Morrison. The tower, which was to be 1,000 feet higher than the Eiffel tower at Paris, was not built, however.

When Engineer Morrison was planning to construct at Memphis the largest steel cantilever bridge in the world, he entrusted the work of building a miniature working model to "Inventor Proctor." The model was to be only two inches square and was to have 912 joints and almost as many separate pieces. Proctor completed it in two months and received $3,000 for the work.

When his body was found in the dingy room in which he had lived and dreamed his dreams of astounding inventions for the last six years, the narrow little bed was festooned with tiny carved models of flying machines, of secret discoveries that he claimed to have made in the field of aeronautics.

Mr. Proctor was a native of Gloucester, Mass. He is survived by a widow and two daughters, Mrs. Arthur Rowe and Mrs. William H. Perkins of Gloucester.

TRAFFIC MEN CAN'T AGREE.

Make Many Suggestions to Commerce Commission, However.

Washington, Oct. 17.—Two days' discussion before the Interstate Commerce Commission by traffic men and shippers on the uniform bill of lading question has resulted in nothing like an agreement, but only in placing before the commission by the joint committee of traffic men and some of the shipping interests, as well as a great number of amendments suggested in the meeting of the last two days.

The commission is expected to evolve from all of the suggestions some sort of uniform bill of lading.
